Dear Nigel

The Pollution Prevention and Control Act 1999
The Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2010, as amended.
Lafarge Tarmac Cement Batching EP46/4/RAB

Further to my visit on 28th March 2014, I can confirm that the process is generally compliant with the permit. One area in which there may be issues in the future is the fact that the conveyor belt is not covered and may therefore be susceptible to wind whipping. I suggest that this is monitored during the drier months of the year.

I also have concerns regarding the dustiness of the wider site in general although I have addressed this in the letter relating to the coating plant.

The process has been risk assessed as Low.

If you have any questions please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours sincerely

Louise Burns
