

Inspection against permit carried out. Operatives appear to have good knowledge of the machine and what is required of them - Mr and Mrs Kuru are the only two people who run and work within the business. The machine is serviced yearly and was done in September - I saw the invoice as proof. Perch alarm in reception area. They had the solvent inventory sheets ready for me and showed me the their paper and computer based system that they use. These will be passed to support services for scanning in.

They confirmed that they use bicarb and organic soap (domestic) for spot cleaning - no solvents used.

They weigh before loading the machine to ensure optimum solvent use - they explained that it is in their interests to get the machine running to optimum capacity.

A licensed waste contractor removes the residues from the still etc.

Verbal report given to them on the inspection but all appeared to be compliant.
