

CODE OF CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

May 2023

Introduction

“Corporate governance” is about how the Council ensures that it is doing things right, in the right way, for the right people, in a timely, inclusive, open, honest and accountable manner. Good governance enables the Council to define and pursue its vision more effectively. It leads to improvements in management, performance, stewardship of public money, public engagement, outcomes for individuals and the community. It ensures that appropriate mechanisms are in place for control and risks and opportunities are managed effectively.

The Council’s corporate governance has been developed in accordance with the principles outlined in the framework and guidance notes for CIPFA/SOLACE “Delivering Good Governance in Local Government” (2016). Each local authority is required to develop and maintain an up to date Code of Corporate Governance (“the Code”) and to prepare an Annual Governance Statement in order to report publicly on its compliance with the Code.

Core Governance Principles

The CIPFA/SOLACE framework identifies seven core principles against which local authorities should review their existing corporate governance arrangements and develop and maintain a local code of governance. Each core principle has a number of supporting principles which in turn have a range of specific requirements that apply across the range of Council business.

The CIPFA/SOLACE “Delivering Good Governance in Local Government” principles are:

Core Principle 1: Behaving with integrity, demonstrating strong commitment to ethical values, and respecting the rule of law

Core Principle 2: Ensuring openness and comprehensive stakeholder engagement

Core Principle 3: Defining outcomes in terms of sustainable economic, social and environmental benefits

Core Principle 4: Determining the interventions necessary to optimise the achievement of the intended outcomes

Core Principle 5: Developing the Authority’s capacity, including the capability of its leadership and the individuals within it

Core Principle 6: Managing risks and performance through robust internal control and strong public financial management

Core Principle 7: Implementing good practices in transparency, reporting, and audit to deliver effective accountability

To achieve good governance, the authority should be able to demonstrate that it is complying with the core and supporting principles contained in the CIPFA/SOLACE Framework. Ipswich Borough Council (IBC) has therefore developed and aims to maintain a local code of governance appropriate to its circumstances comprising of the following requirements for best practice.

Code of Corporate Governance

Core Principle 1

Behaving with integrity, demonstrating strong commitment to ethical values, and respecting the rule of law

Local government organisations are accountable not only for how much they spend, but also for how they use the resources under their stewardship. This includes accountability for outputs, both positive and negative, and for the outcomes they have achieved. In addition, they have an overarching responsibility to serve the public interest in adhering to the requirements of legislation and government policies. It is essential that, as a whole, they can demonstrate the appropriateness of all their actions across all activities and have mechanisms in place to encourage and enforce adherence to ethical values and to respect the rule of law

Core Principle 2

Ensuring openness and comprehensive stakeholder engagement

Local government is run for the public good, organisations therefore should ensure openness in their activities. Core Principle 3

Defining outcomes in terms of sustainable economic, social and environmental benefits

The long-term nature and impact of many of local government’s responsibilities mean that it should define and plan outcomes and that these should be sustainable. Decisions should further the organisation’s purpose, contribute to intended benefits and outcomes, and remain within the limits of authority and resources. Input from all groups of stakeholders, including citizens, service users, and institutional stakeholders, is vital to the success of this process and in balancing competing demands when determining priorities for the finite resources available

Core Principle 4

Determining the interventions necessary to optimise the achievement of the intended outcomes

Local government achieves its intended outcomes by providing a mixture of legal, regulatory, and practical interventions (courses of action). Determining the right mix of these courses of action is a critically important strategic choice that local government has to make to ensure intended outcomes are achieved. They need robust decision-making mechanisms to ensure that their defined outcomes can be achieved in a way that provides the best trade-off between the various types of resource inputs while still enabling effective and efficient operations. Decisions made need to be reviewed frequently to ensure that achievement of outcomes is optimised

Core Principle 5

Developing the Authority’s capacity, including the capability of its leadership and the individuals within it

Local government needs appropriate structures and leadership, as well as people with the right skills, appropriate qualifications and mindset, to operate efficiently and effectively and achieve intended outcomes within the specified periods. A local government organisation must ensure that it has both the capacity to fulfil its own mandate and to make certain that there are policies in place to guarantee that its management has the operational capacity for the organisation as a whole.

Because both individuals and the environment in which an organisation operates will change over time, there will be a continuous need to develop its capacity as well as the skills and experience of individual staff members.

Leadership in local government is strengthened by the participation of people with many different types of backgrounds, reflecting the structure and diversity of communities.

Core Principle 6

Managing risks and performance through robust internal control and strong public financial management

Local government needs to ensure that the organisations and governance structures that it oversees have implemented, and can sustain, an effective performance management system that facilitates effective and efficient delivery of planned services. Risk management and internal control are important and integral parts of a performance management system and are crucial to the achievement of outcomes. Risk should be considered and addressed as part of all decision making activities.

A strong system of financial management is essential for the implementation of policies and the achievement of intended outcomes, as it will enforce financial discipline, strategic allocation of resources, efficient service delivery and accountability.

It is also essential that a culture and structure for scrutiny are in place as a key part of accountable decision making, policy making and review. A positive working culture that accepts, promotes and encourages constructive challenge is critical to successful scrutiny and successful service delivery. Importantly, this culture does not happen automatically, it requires repeated public commitment from those in authority.

Core Principle 7

Implementing good practices in transparency, reporting, and audit to deliver effective accountability

Accountability is about ensuring that those making decisions and delivering services are answerable for them.
